MEDICAL EVACUATION INSURANCE PROVIDERS

Trip cancellation insurance is not required, but we enforce a strict refund policy and strongly advise you to purchase trip cancellation and interruption insurance to protect you against an event which may force you to cancel your trip or leave an expedition early.

We have created this list of insurance providers to assist you in researching medical evacuation policies available.

As our expertise lies in heli-skiing and ski expeditions, not in the nuances of insurance, we strongly recommend that you address specific questions to your insurance agent and take time to thoroughly understand the policy you purchase and its exclusions.

Since we cannot confirm each client's policy individually, it is your responsibility to make sure your policy will cover you while you participate in the activities included in your Powder South expedition.

You are welcome to seek out these insurance options, as these are only recommendations.
